

Thoughts about Core values, that are meaningful to us (Herwig & Angela Schmid)

Every community needs its distinct identity for all present and future members to connect with; we should put great care and broad and long-term vision into this statement.

This is a pioneering way for us UC members, since we would want to share a life together with 3 generations (which is a lifespan! and beyond) and always have the sanctity of the blessing at our center. It shouldn't end up only with just a bunch of longtime friends living in the vicinity, although this would be an easy start.

Therefore the core values of a "True love school" and a "peace center" should be in our manifesto and be expressed in our lifestyle.

On our journey I introduced this book: <https://www.createspace.com/3600903> ("Have You Lost Your Tribe?") It supports the dismantling of (male) leadership cultures through assuming responsibility for oneself, honesty in relationships, truth in love (True love) and transparency in community.

I introduced also one of Sobonfu Somee's books "The spirit of intimacy":

<http://www.sobonfu.com/bookstore/> ("This is a teacher who can help us put together so many things that our modern Western World has broken," — Alice Walker, Author of The Color Purple.)

In ancient matriarchal cultures experienced women were the core of every tribe, every community, every extended family, the female knowledge of healing, conflict resolution and caring was (and always will be) the guarantee of stability and well-being of any social group > an established "women's council" will be an important source for love, peace, stability and healing!

The core value "absolute (good) sex" should be verbalized, strengthened and receive priority, since it is the underlying principle in maintaining the sanctity of our Blessing, while all (even unsaid, unobserved, specially hidden) sex-related issues will instantly weaken community bonds and eventually disrupt and dismantle lasting relationships. This shouldn't be faith related, but principle (or as Rob says "lifestyle") related. "Lifestyle" might need a proper definition though.

Some (if not all) verses of our family pledge express this in an elaborate way:

- to perfect the Four Great Realms of Heart, the Three Great Kingships and the Realm of the Royal Family, by centering on true love.
- to build the universal family encompassing heaven and earth, which is God's ideal of creation, and perfect the world of freedom, peace, unity and happiness, by centering on true love.
- to become a family that moves heavenly fortune by embodying God and True Parents, and
- to perfect a family that conveys Heaven's blessing to our community, by centering on true love.
- to live for the sake of others (altruism),
- to perfect the world based on the culture of heart, which is rooted in the original lineage, by centering on true love.

Living, establishing, owning the 3 Great Blessings through satisfying 6 eternal purposes in our life:

1. Love God and True Parents (worship)
2. Grow ourselves to become ideal men and women (education) > I deal with myself and others according to my core values
3. Connect with other brothers and sisters (fellowship)
4. Honor our future spouse (purity)
5. Discover our gifts to give (ministry)
6. Outreach to the community and beyond (witnessing)
